Next steps for TCNJ Library's strategic map

LSPC discussed their November 30 telephone call with the strategic planning consultant firm that helped the library draft its current strategic map. That map was drafted with a 3-year window in mind (2014-2017), so LSPC has been discussing potential next steps for library strategic planning after that time period. LSPC approved a motion: To keep the existing map in place but revise it to reflect achievements during the last three years as well as changes in the internal and external environment. The plan is to complete those revisions during the spring semester, and to finalize them in June 2017 (moved by Roe, seconded by Pezzullo-Bizon, approved unanimously with a 3-0 vote of those present).
